Comcast and Local Area Schools Partner with Seguin Services to Promote Student Leadership and Awareness to Persons with Disabilities

Seguin Services in partnership with teachers from Lincoln Middle School in Berwyn, Illinois have developed an educational initiative to develop youth leadership and student awareness to persons with developmental disabilities. In this program, elementary and middle school students read age appropriate books, either What's Wrong with Timmy? by Maria Shriver or The Man Who Loved Clowns by June Rae Wood, and complete a series of assignments to develop leadership, commitment to their community and to build positive relationships with all their classmates including fellow students with disabilities.

The program has already had an impact on local students in Lincoln Middle School who have recently completed their fifth year of holding a Walk-a-thon to raise money to support services to individuals with disabilities. During that time they have raised over $40,000 themselves. One student, Antonio Santos, expressed what he has learned as a result of the educational unit, "My favorite thing would be just supporting [individuals with developmental disabilities] in a way that we could help them. It makes me feel good to raise money to help them."

Now, the Comcast Foundation has just awarded a two year, $40,000 grant to Seguin to implement this educational initiative in up to 28 area schools serving up to 6000 students. This grant has enabled Seguin's nascent efforts to offer the program in the communities of Riverside, Brookfield, Berwyn, Cicero, Lyons, Stickney, Forest Park, Oak Park and River Forest. Long term, Seguin hopes to see the program made available throughout the greater Chicago area.

John Voit, President/CEO of Seguin Services, explained his enthusiasm for the program and Comcast when he said, "Comcast has been at the forefront of the effort to promote youth leadership and disability awareness and we are ecstatic to join with Comcast in making this happen!"

Beginning this March, coinciding with National Developmental Disability Awareness Month, Cicero Illinois' Public School District 99 Schools began using this unit to kick off their own disability awareness program. In addition, other area schools are considering implementing the curricula for the next school year.

Seguin Program Participants Protest Movie “Tropic Thunder” For Offensive and Demeaning Language

Above: Seguin's John Voit speaks with the media as Seguin staff and participants with other organizations protest the movie Tropic Thunder.

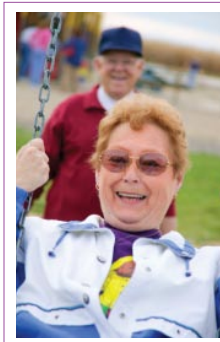

Left: Seguin Services' Participants Leon Turner and Jeffrey Difiglio are among 50 Seguin Participants protesting the screening of the movie, Tropic Thunder this past summer.

On August 15, 2008, approximately 50 program participants and staff members from Seguin Services showed up at the AMC River East Theatre in Chicago to bring attention to the movie Tropic Thunder's offensive and derogatory language aimed at persons with disabilities. The comedic movie starred Ben Stiller as “Simple Jack” a person with an intellectual disability who was referred to multiple times using egregiously derogatory language, including the “R” word 16 times, as well as other equally demeaning language. These references were anything but comedic for individuals who are served by Seguin, and their families, and staff members who provide essential services to them.

“We . . . urg[ed] the general public not to spend their hard-earned dollars on this film because of its deplorable and demeaning view of a person with intellectual disabilities,” said John Voit, CEO/President of Seguin Services. Other organizations joining the rally included members from The Arc of Illinois, Community Support Services, Anixter Center, Best Buddies, and Special Olympics Illinois. The protest event received significant publicity and was covered extensively by local television stations including ABC, NBC, CBS, WGN and FOX.

Seguin Services Receives Major Federal Grant to Create Jobs, Address Emerging Community Need

Dementia. Will the disease affect you or someone in your family? According to national studies chances are 1 in 7 individuals will. Many affected persons will require specialized homes for care, creating job opportunities for individuals interested in providing such care.

Seguin Services, already recognized for their innovative services to individuals with developmental disabilities, has been allocated a $509,000 multi-year federal grant to create jobs associated with initiating a new project serving persons affected with dementia, Alzheimer's disease or mental illness. The Seguin

Cares project will create up to 28 jobs for low-income individuals, while providing critical residential services for approximately 20 persons in three homes in the western suburbs of Cook County. Homes will be designed to become special living environments aimed at accessibility, comfort and safety while promoting a stress free atmosphere for each resident.

The grant was provided to Seguin from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Community Services (OCS). In the past five years Seguin has received $1.7 million in OCS community economic development grants, to spur job creation for low-income individuals through new businesses initiated by Seguin, such as their Auto Center, Garden Center and Gift Works initiatives.

Seguin Services' David Klein

Receives Congratulations on Job Well Done

Seguin Services is proud to recognize Participant David Klein as he was honored for 10 years of employment at La Grange Park Jewel--Osco. David is pictured with co-workers Katie Kavanaugh and Mary Hosso, and Manager Denise Carellas. This is quite an accomplishment. Andy Klein, David's father, feels quite fortunate to have Seguin's able assistance and has said that with Seguin's help in job development and coaching, "the effect of David's work on his sense of competence, his personal development, and his happiness has been immense."

Congratulations David!

Motivated Woman Works with Seguin Services To Overcome Life's Challenges

Maria Vanik has acquired social and language skills that would make almost anyone envious. Her ability to speak English, Spanish and Czech as well as communicate in universal sign language makes her a unique individual to be sure. Even more remarkable, however, is the fact that Maria was born with Down syndrome. Often associated with some impairment of intellectual ability and physical growth, this developmental disability has not curtailed Maria's motivation to work, to learn and to inspire others. She speaks positively and with energy about her life and her family, yet also is one who is interested in what others have to say.

Maria is mostly a seasonal or temporary employee who works assisting in administrative jobs such as getting out mass mailings. Along with many others during this significant economic crisis, she is seeking full time employment and the competition is stiff. A certain challenge for anyone, but for Maria, it's just yet another step towards a more independent life. She already has chosen to reside with her peers in a home in Brookfield. She attends classes at Seguin Services' Carr Center in Cicero, to learn new skills. She formally represents Seguin Services at area schools assisting in the presentation of our Youth Leadership and Disability Awareness units in order to sensitize others to persons with disabilities.

It is through Seguin that Maria receives services that have helped her acquire the skills necessary for her to succeed at home, socially, and in the workplace. She has partnered with staff members at Seguin for over six years, achieving many objectives along the way and is now ready to accomplish her ultimate goal of securing a full time job. Challenging it will be, but for Maria Vanik, it will be yet another in a series of achievements for a motivated, communicative Latina woman with independence on her mind.

Seguin Participant Bill Scroggins is treated to joys of the season by visiting with guests Santa and Mrs. Claus.

Community Generosity Pays Dividends For Seguin Participants during the Holiday Season

There is no other time of the year for Seguin program participants that is more eagerly anticipated than the winter Holiday season. With this point in mind, the knack for giving at this time was again commendably demonstrated by members of the surrounding community.

Beginning the holiday season on Saturday, December 6th, Seguin participants were treated to the 37th Annual Holiday Party at the Wishing Well Banquet Hall in Cicero. Gracious hosts for this annual celebratory event for over 200 participants were Al and Barbara Ann Carr and Terry and Cindy Carr with assistance from family and friends. There was no sparing of quality entertainment and food as everyone took pleasure in experiencing a banquet meal (provided in part by the Carr family, Ram Transportation and Wishing Well owner, Fred Yanez). Holiday music was arranged by "Frankie K" Yakoubek, which culminated in a visit from Santa and Mrs. Claus who were spotted being driven to the hall by the Cicero Fire Department atop the town fire truck. Also contributing to the festivities were North Riverside Mayor Richard Scheck, former Cicero Town Assessor and President of the Community Chest of Cicero John Kociolko, and Seguin Participant Richard Smith and friend Lisa Kiziak attend the Annual Holiday Party at the Wishing Well sponsored by the Carr family and friends.

Bill Pacella of Pacella Trucking. Mayor Richard Scheck provided participants with backpacks; Bill Pacella supplied long sleeved T-shirts embossed with Seguin's newly designed logo. Seguin participants also received a tasty holiday stocking filled with fruit and candy from B&B Wholesalers and Ferrera Pan Candy Company.

On December 9th, Toys for Tots sponsored a holiday event at the Carr Center with plenty of presents and the good company of Santa and Mrs. Claus, Frosty the Snowman as well as some of Santa's busy elves. Santa and Mrs. Claus were happy to pose for individual pictures with everyone who desired to do so and Toys for Tots representatives Jim Sullivan of Sullivan's Plumbing and Heating and Mike Dansano were responsible for coordinating this special event.

December 10th brought the Annual Seguin Holiday Party for staff members to the Carr Center where, for the first year, all Seguin staff was able to gather in the Center's newly constructed space. Staff members were able to socialize and enjoy pizza, snacks and a gift raffle. This was not only a time of holiday festivity for Seguin employees, but also a time that CEO/President John Voit was able to publicly express his gratitude for good work performed and to reflect on what staff members had accomplished for Seguin Services both individually and collectively during the past year.

The Children's Foster Care Holiday Party was held on the evening of December 17th at the Columbus East Elementary School in Cicero for 75 foster children and their families for a total of approximately 200 persons. This annual event was arranged by Carla Szabo, Coordinator of Placement and Permanency Services at Seguin and gifts for the children were provided by the McCormick-Tribune WGN Radio 720 Neediest Kids Fund and the Connie and Walter Payton Foundation. A scrumptious dinner, catered by Corky's Catering in Addison, consisting of fried chicken, mashed potatoes, mostaccioli, potato salad, macaroni and cheese, vegetable and fruit trays, cookies, brownies and cake was enjoyed by all. Jamie House Entertainment assumed DJ duties for the evening as families danced and engaged in a number of entertaining activities including making bead jewelry and holiday cards, a ring toss game, holiday card toss game and an unwrapping presents game. Families, staff members and children made favorable comments regarding the party following a very enjoyable holiday evening.

Highlights from Fiscal Year 2008

As the innovative leader in providing services and supports to people with developmental disabilities, Seguin continued to evolve and improve in order to create outcomes of value and relevance for its participants, families, donors and the communities in which they live.

Integrate

- 217 adults received services in 60 family-like homes scattered throughout 21 west suburban communities.
- 191 children were served in over 100 foster homes, where Seguin provided safety, security, and individualized care regardless of their emotional, behavioral, or medical challenges.
- 216 cars were sold at the SEGUINWORKS Auto Marketplace with sales revenues of approximately $300,000; 147 cars were donated in fiscal 2008.
- An average of 76 participants per month gave back to their communities through volunteer opportunities.

Enrich

- 40 children were placed in loving foster homes.
- Visible progress was made to the Carr Center, Seguin's main center of operations and day services. The new Front Entrance opened, providing ease of access and a welcoming reception area for program participants, staff and visitors. Work commenced on the First Floor, adding seven new classrooms, a specially designed Portillo's Learning Kitchen, a computer learning lab, a Snoezelen sensory stimulation room, and a new nursing center.
- SEGUINWORKS continued to create jobs at through the Car Wash, Lawn Care and Snow Removal business, and the Gift Corner for adults with disabilities considered "hard to employ". Plans were finalized for construction of the new retail Garden Center, scheduled to open in spring 2009 as a new employment and horticultural therapy site.
- Donors "paid it forward," donating more than $1.9 million dollars through grants, individual gifts, special events, and other donations to support Seguin programs, as well as the Capital Campaign, "Building A Better Life".
- Seguin provided expanded arts enrichment and recreation activities, from music therapy to African drumming, from expanded involvement in Special Olympics to new exercise programs, from a fashion show to a Seguin Idol contest, including weekends and weekday evenings, for both adults and children served.

Empower

- 30 foster children now reside in permanent, stable homes through adoption, subsidized guardianship, or have transitioned to family-like adult homes.
- Seguin's Community Employment programs supported 184 adults during the year at jobs in their communities.
- Eighth grade students and their teachers from Berwyn's Lincoln Middle School head their Fourth Annual Walk-A-Thon—increasing their four-year total to $32,000 raised for Seguin. (And with FY2009's efforts, they raised their five-year total to more than $40,000.)
- During Staff Recognition month, six employees were given special recognition for their outstanding contributions to Seguin and its participants.

Seguin Participants Zondra Henry's and Timberly Hemmons' lives are enriched by many classes such as African drum lessons.

Seguin Reflects on the Golden Age of Hollywood

Seguin Services Celebration Gala June 12, 2008

The reviews were in early and by all accounts it was a 4 star production at The Brookfield Zoo on June 12, 2008 when Friends of Seguin gathered at the Pavilions for a spectacular evening in order to recognize Seguin participants, volunteers and contributors. Guests enjoyed dinner and live music by Roger Anderson performing hits from the Golden Age of Hollywood. Additionally, bids were placed for over 60 silent auction items and for over 35 raffle baskets as well as three live auction items including a vacation in the Virgin Islands. The Celebration Gala successfully raised over $86,000 to be used in direct support of children and adults with disabilities.

Potential buyers fill the auction pavilion perusing auction items and anxiously anticipating final bids.

The Annual Gala event included appearances by Dick Portillo, recipient of the President's Award, Mary Walsh Farmar, recipient of the Marjorie A. Feeney Volunteer of the Year Award and both Sarah Allen and Julianne Cervenka who received the Shining Star Award. Each honoree starred in his/her own video as part of the award ceremony. Also present was former Illinois Speaker of the House and "Building a Better Life" Capital Campaign Chairperson, Lee Daniels who highlighted Seguin's Capital Campaign including progress toward achieving completion of its many goals. Additionally, Mr. Daniels presented the President's Award to Dick Portillo.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Rob Johnson, CBS 2 news co-anchor, who returned for this integral role for the second consecutive year. Rob's official duties included the presentation of awards to each of the other four celebrity recipients.

John Voit presents Zach Rice with his award for Men's Longest Drive.

There were no losers at the 16th Annual Golf Classic on August 26, 2008. The day was beautiful and approximately one hundred golfers attacked the intricate championship course at Ruffled Feathers Golf Club in Lemont to support individuals with developmental disabilities served by Seguin Services. Fabulous, made-to-order golf weather, a replenishing lunch, a gratifying dinner and an entertaining awards ceremony filled the day. Sandwiched in between the main events were a silent auction and a basket raffle. All activities were structured to benefit children and adults with disabilities raising over $64,000 during the annual golf outing.

Highlights from the 18 holes of golf included a three-way tie for Low Men's Score among Des Daly, Bob Levin and Larry Davis. Singularly securing the Low Women's Score was Amy Foley and the first place Low “Orange Ball” team consisted of Anthony Bonomo, Des Daly, Jack Horschler and Bob Thomalla. The long ball hitters were Zach Rice who had the Men's Longest Drive of the day and Amy Foley was the winner for the Women's Longest Drive. Later, the “Big Raffle” winner was Seguin Board of Directors President, Joseph Pederson. Joe graciously donated the $500 cash prize back to Seguin on behalf of the participants in his golf foursome, Dennis Coates, John Donatell and Marvin Rathjen.

We are especially thankful because without the continuing generosity and support of contributing sponsors, staff members and volunteers, Seguin's 16th Annual Golf Classic would not have been possible.
