Infinitec Executive Team

John Voit is President & CEO of UCP Seguin of Greater Chicago. Over his 40 years of experience working with people with disabilities, Voit has championed expansion of innovative services, including the recent merger of two outstanding nonprofits - UCP Association of Greater Chicago and Seguin Services. Along with Infinitec's founder, Dr. Paul Dulle, Voit is committed to high-quality, affordable professional development for social services organizations throughout Illinois and beyond.

Dr. Paul Dulle is founder of the Infinitec programs, and currently serves as President of the UCP Seguin of Greater Chicago Foundation. As President & CEO of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago from 1993 to 2013, Dr. Dulle lead his team to develop the technology-based training and resource effort known as Infinitec - "Infinite Potential Through Technology". As a result of Dulle's guidance and direction, Infinitec's reach now extends across Illinois and three other states.

ENGAGE: your customizable online learner management system

History

In 1998, UCP Seguin launched its Infinites Coalitions as vehicles for agencies to work together to enhance their services to persons with disabilities using up-to-date technology. The name, Infinites, is based on the concept of “infinite potential through technology”. Infinites’s mission is to advance independence and promote inclusive opportunities for diverse learners through the use of technology. Services provided through Infinites include professional development training and educational programs, information resources, and access to assistive technology equipment and specialists.

Infinites currently serves school districts across Illinois and several other states, and is expanding its reach to social service organizations, including an ever-increasing number in Illinois.
