UCP Seguin participants and staff once again commemorated the life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his dream for equality and civil rights for all people by participating in the Annual MLK Day of Service. The iconic civil rights leader's passionate and persistent fight for equality and against discrimination paved the way for the disability community to advance and persevere in its ongoing fight for equality, rights, and inclusion.

In honor of his work, UCP Seguin made it a day on, not a day off! Participants and staff addressed the issue of food insecurity while promoting inclusive volunteering to bring together people with and without disabilities to serve their communities.

Healthy snack bags were packed for individuals in our community who lack sufficient food at the Midwest Shelter for Homeless Veterans and Catholic Charities. Face masks were also tie dyed to share with our friends from Lincoln and Heritage Middle Schools in Berwyn and Glen Crest Middle School in Glen Ellyn when we gather in the spring to continue our commitment to service and education addressing food insecurity as well as strengthen the connection to the legacy of Martin Luther King, Jr.

UCP Seguin of Greater Chicago is proud to continue the legacy of Dr. King by being active members of our communities and work to serve the greater good.
